

Franklin Square Gallery - Workshop with Andy Palmer
Functional Sculptural Serveware-Exploring Mold & Tool Making

February 11 & 12, 2023 --10 am to 3pm @ Franklin Square Gallery
2nd Floor Studio 130 E. West Street Southport, NC 28461

Andy brings us a wealth of knowledge with his background as Supervisor of Cornell University's Ceramics program for 13+ years! He's a glaze master and loves teaching.

- We will learn how to manipulate the form and the surface of slab-built and freshly thrown pots. Emphasis will be on hand-building with wheel components.
- Techniques and ideas of altered parts will be directed toward functional ceramics and the tools used to make them.
- Be inspired to create asymmetrical, sculptural, and fun pieces for daily use.
- Combine to make more complex shapes.
- Learn how to build tricky lids for these altered asymmetrical pieces.
- Create your own bisque hump & slump molds to use with unique templates for more complicated forms and shapes. The final product will give you original shapes distinctive to your style while gaining experience in creating and using these shapes and forms.
- Tool making: Carving and using embossed rollers
- Yummy morning homemade breads,treats, coffee & tea provided!

Cost of workshop AAS members $190 Non-member $230
Deposit of $75 due by January 25 Balance due by February 3rd

A supply list will be sent to participants.

Please make checks payable to AAS. Please send checks and registration form to Cheryl Rogers 2778 Cedar Crest Dr. Southport NC 28461

Workshop Registration Form

Andy Palmer Workshop

Feb. 11 & 12, 2023

Name: _____

Email address _____

Phone _____

Address _____

For more information contact Cheryl Rogers 925-286-8475 auntducks@gmail.com

